CRUSH AT KANSAS CITY.

Week. KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 10.-By the best good fortune the last night of Carnival Week barely escaped being the cause of several deaths. As it was several people were injured.

Fifty thousand people tried to squeeze into two blocks of space on Grand avenue, in the center of the city, to witness a mimic play at fire aranged by the fire department. The crush of people finally became terrific and two solid walls of humanity found itself wedged in by impenetrable buildings on either side and pushed on against each other by crushing crowds in the rear.

Fair Friday afternoon, and went to see the living pictures.

A hend-painted Psyche was leaning over the bank of the brook gazing at her own pleasing counterpart reflected in the placid waters, when the platform on which Crosby and others was standing fell through.

His right leg was sprained and bruised, but the others escaped injury.

Crosby was sent home. His physician says he will recover, unless the shock from the animated photographs shall prove fatal.

UNDERWOOD, THE MURDEROUS BURGLAR, IS IN JAIL HERE.

SLEW A TEXAN IN THE DARK. Makes Full Confession to a Post-Dispatch Reporter and Will Pay the Penalty. George Edward Underwood, who killed A. A. Raybuck at Houston, Tex., was locked in a cell at the Central Police Station Saturday morning and at 8 p. m. will be started back to the Texas town. He was arrested in Woodstock, Ontario and his custodian, Deputy Sheriff Walter Walsh of Houston, started for him four weeks ago. Heretofore Underwood has denied his guilt and protested his innocence, but Sat-urdsy morning he confessed the crime to a Post-Dispatch reporter. It is the first time he has admitted his guilt and he willingly resigned himself to his doom.

According to the accusation against him, and which agrees with his confession, he and two men, whose names he declines to give, broke into the shoe store of A. A. Raybuck in Houston on the night of Jan,

While Underwood was busy trying to force open the cash drawer Raybuck opened the front door of the store to get something he had forgotten.

The two men in the store hid behind benches and Underwood arouched behind the cashier's desk. Raybuck went back to the desk and, in the dark stumbled over Underwood. The latter, who had his revolver in his hand, reached up and sent a bullet into the proprietor's abdomen. There was a fight and Underwood emptied his weapon into the body of Raybuck. The latter dropped to the floor. As the burgisrs were leaving the store Underwood was captured by a policeman. The others escaped. Underwood was taken back into the store and Raybuck, who was dying, was unable to identify him.

While the policeman was taking his prisoner to the police station, Underwood escaped. That was the last seen of him in Houston. A reward of Koo was offered for his capture.

A Houston detective went to work on the case, and found that during the year Underwood had lived is that city he had not only broken into a force of his laftdlady. was sending letters to the girl. For a long time the detectives tried to get hold of some of these letters, but it was not until Sept. 1 that one of them was obtained. It was learned that Underwood was in Woodstock, Canada, working as a porter in a hotel.

The Houston authorities sent to Washington and secured the President's requisition for the extradition of Underwood. Armed with these papers, Walsh started. He arrived with the prisoner in St. Louis at 7:30 a. m. Saturday.

Mr. McMillin said that he had not heard of the incorporation of the Phoenix Heat. Light & Power Co. by three of the principal stockholders of the Laclede Co. When told that the new concern would go into the electric lighting business, if the Supreme Court should decide that the Laclede Gaslight Co. had no right to distribute electricity, Mr. McMillin said simply:

"The organization of auxiliary companies for specific purposes is often advisable and sometimes necessary." story as Millionaire James Campbell told and proved against Oliver Winthrop comes now from Charles Montgomery, proprietor of the Brooklyh Hotel, who is a man of moans, position and high reputation—just such a story, save that the kidnaper, to call him so, is declared to haye planned more wisely than Winthrop, executed more skiltully reaped a substantial reward for his daring crime, and has gone scot free.

For more than a year Mr. Montgomery has held his peace and kept his piedge of secrecy, and no one but his wife and his lawyer has known that he was the victim of an astonishing piece of villainy, and that he paid a large sum of money, said to be $10,000, to his captor as the price of liberty and personal security.

The Chronicle this morning publishes a sensational story to the effect that a year ago last July Mr. Montgomery had been lured at midday into a vacant house in the most populous part of the city, and had been held a prisoner and threatened with torture and death, and had finally agreed to pay his jailor the sum he demanded within a specified time after his release, had sworn not to betray the robber, and had paid the money as he promised. In an interview upon the subject Montgomery said that his reason for not having given publicity to the story at an earlier date was that the kidnaper had threatened to kilk him if it ever became public, and both he and his wife believed that he would keep his word.

WAS ANY PLANE FOR THE STORY THE PROPERTY OF THE PR ide questions, and who attempts to cover his ideas with words of a double means, you doubt the honesty and sincerity f the witness. So, in a controversy like his, when our people who advocate free coinage openly declare what they want, why they want it and how they expect to get it, when they give you reasons for their faith, you have a right to have condence in the honesty of their purpose. But when our opponents rry to secure a gold standard without daring to advocate it; when they talk about sund money and mean gold; when they talk about an honest dollar and mean the most dishonest dollar and mean the most dishonest dollar fibere is in this land to-day, you have a right to question their sincerity. My friends, men who have a cause in which they believe are not ashamed to state their belief, and when you find written, on Republican banners, that deceptive phrase: 'Sound Money,' you have a right to believe that the men who use the term use it because they are not willing to tell the American people what they mean by sound money.

"We believe in sound money, and we be-

"We believe in sound money, and we believe that the free coinage of sliver at 15 to 1 gives us a sounder musey than can be had by the gold standard. We believe in a safe financial system, but we believe that in order to be safe a financial system must have a foundation broad enough for that system to rest upon.

"Our opponents tell you that they want bimetallism whenever foreign nations will consent to our having it, and yet they secretly use every effort to fasten the gold standard upon the American people. Let me ask you this question and you can repeat it to the advocates of the Republican platform: 'Is the gold standard a good thing? Cries of 'Ne, no.' A voice of 'Yes.')

"My Republican friend says the gold standard is a good thing. I ask him why the Republican party promised to get rid of the gold standard as soon as they could. Departing from their platform, the Republicans will tell you that gold is good money because it is good all over the world. My friends, no money is good which rises in value and gives an unearned advantage to the man who loans money and imposes an unjust hurden on the man who agrees to pay it. There is something necessary in money besides quality. There must be quantity as well as quality to money. The Republican party tells you to build up a financial structure on gold, and then tells you that gold in the banks in this city or not. (A

There were other complaints, but most of them were straightened out, so the applicants could be registered.

The judges of registration were not fully informed on the new law, which, by the way, is full of complications. In a case where they were in doubt with a disposition to accept the affidavits of inability to furnish naturalization papers or copies, they sent the applicants to the Election Board. In such instances they are required to furnish the applicant with a note signed by a Democratic and a Republican official. They overlooked this requirement in nearly avery instance, and to guide them correctly the Board sent out fifteen deputies to visit every office and further instruct the judges.

There are legal authorities who differ with Counselor Marshall's interpretation of the law so far as vaild reasons for not producing papers or copies is concerned. The point may come before the Circuit Judges when they sit to hear appeals from applicants who have been refused registration.

The point may come before the Circuit Judges when they sit to hear appeals from applicants who have been refused registration.

When the registration is completed next Tuesday the clerks in each precinct will have to take the lists and make a thorough canvass. If the paries registered do not live at the numbers from which they are registered their names will be stricken from the rolls.

After the precinct officials are through correcting the lists, the Board of Election Commissioners must sit two days to hear applications to have names stricken off which escaped the vigilance of the precinct officials. The Board will do this work Oct. 27 and 28, and it will have to investigate every name to which objection is made.

The final review is made by the judges. They sit Oct. 30 and 31 and will hear appeals from those whose names were refused or were unjustly scratched off the lists.

Special to the PewDispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct 10.—The Republican managers have grown desperate. The report of the special Wall Street Commission, sent to the Middle West a short time since, which showed a regular tidal wave for ground of the great political battle new raging, threw the camp into consternation. Since Matt Quay took charge of the Eastern campaign his advices from the West have convinced him that something radical has got to be done to turn the scale, and it is stated from high quarters that he has devised a coup which he hopes will startle the country, discourage the Democrats and win the fight for McKinley.

The plan as sutlined is nothing more or less than the withdrawal of Palmer and Buckner late in the campaign and make a powerful effort to throw the whole vote of the gold standard Democratic to McKinley. It is wall known that the bulk of the "sound money" Democratic movement is based on the idea of spoils White a few fanatics are honest in the fight on Bryan they cut small figure in the movement made in the Indianapolis Convention and nomination of Palmer and Buckner. Quay banks on full knowledge of the situation and will use boodle to accomplish his ends. At the same time it is stated that the shrewd politician is driving as hard a bargain as possible with the Democratic botters. So far, it is claimed, he has only proposed to pay the expenses incurred in nominating Palmer and Buckner and take care of them in case McKinley is elected. It is proposed, so it is said, to make the withdrawal of Palmer and Buckner withdraw for the reason that McKinley's election is assured and that there the impression that Palmer and Buckner withdraw for the reason that McKinley's election is assured and that there

Street Opening Stopped by Fish. The City Counselor's office was deserted Saturday morning and the street opening business was practically at a standstill, because of the fact that Chief Clerk Walter Dryden, better and more generally known as "Baldy," had gone fishing, as is his annual practice, He and several officials about the hall registered Tuesday last and packed up their traps Friday night for a two-weeks' fish and hunt on the Gasconade River.

When their majesties reached the French frontier station of Pagny-Sur-Moselle the Prefect of the Department was present to do homage to the Russian travelers upon the part of French Lorraine and Nancy, where, the Prefect recalled, took place the memorable interview between the late President Carnot and the Grand Duke Constantine.

The railroad station of Pagny-Sur-Moselle was brilliantly illuminated and decorated with French and Russian flags. Crossing into German territory, a couple of German engines were attached to the imperial train and the journey was resumed.

The Czar looked somewhat fatigued on his arrival here, but he was in good spirits and apparently pleased with his visit to France.

The Czarina was as smilingly happy as ever, and received the greetings of her relatives with tears in her eyes.

LORD ROSEBERY TO GLADSTONE

THE GRAND OLD MAN'S SPEECH ON TURKEY ANSWERED.

EUROPEAN CONCERT NEEDED.

sebery Says Great Britain Canno Act Alone and Is Bound to Aveid War.

EDINBURGH, Scotland, Oct. 10.-Lord Liberal party a few days ago, gave his views of what should be the country's attitude toward Turkey, before a large audience in the Empire Theater last night. Many prominent Liberals were present. Lord Rosebery said, in part, that he had resigned because he could not sacrifice national interests to personal ambi had resigned because he could not sacrifice national interests to personal ambition. He welcomed the national agitation in Great Britain on behalf of Armenia because it would convince foreign Governments of Great Britain's unselfishness and integrity, and would strengthen the hands of the Government, but the present agitation, Lord Rosebery pointed out, differed from Mr. Gladstone's Bulgarian agitation. After referring to the unspeakable Government of Turkey Lord Rosebery pointed out, differed from Mr. Gladstone's Bulgarian agitation. After referring to the unspeakable Government of Turkey Lord Rosebery pointed out that party measures would not suffice. The whole Eastern question, he said, was raised.

In dealing with the various remedies proposed his Lordship said: "The mere deposition of the Sultan would be no remedy, as the system, and not the man, must be tackled. More, this would be impossible without a concert of the Powers, and if the latter were attained it would be better to call upon it to deal with the larger issue involved. The proposal to withhold the Cyprus tribute is impracticable, as this is paid to the Sultan's creditors and not the Sultan, and it would be like tickling the tortoise's back to make it laugh."

Regarding the proposal to place the Dardanelles or Turkey in the hands of Russia, Lerd Rosebery stated that neither of these was Great Britain's to dispose of, and Russia's methods, he said, were not so ideal as to warrant us in acquiescing. He also differed from Mr. Gladstone, he said, in his contention that Great Britain was bound in honor by the Cyprus convention to intervene.

"I attach no value," his Lordship proceeded to say, "strategetic or otherwise, to the retention of Cyprus as a cheap price to pay to secure the concert of Europe upon this question.

"I cannot agree with Mr. Gladstone that the possibility of war is a fantasy. My

Then it appears more words passed between Col. Joyce and Mr. Murphy. The latter had a revolver in his pocket, and hastily drawing it, he pointed it at Col. Joyce and shouted. The Liberal ex-Premier then continued lengthily to argue for his own panaces, namely, the concert of Europe. He was unable to subscribe to the opinion, he said that the European concert was impotent in Turkey.

After eloquently reminding his audience how Cobden Bright and Gladstone had been publicly reviled for the advocacy of an unpopular peace policy, Lord Rosebery declared:

"Although I am aware that it is unpopular to advocate diplomatic methods, I shall never cease to exert my voice and strength against England engaging in such a dangerous war, of which you can see the eloquent commencement, but nobody living can see the catastrophe of the end."

At the close of his address Lord Rosebery was given an ovation. A resolution to reconsider his intention to retire was passed unanimously. Lord Rosebery said his decision was absolute and would not be recalled.

We hear a great deal about purifying the blood. The way to purify it is to enrich it. Blood is not a simple fluid like water. It is made up of minute bodies and when these are deficient, the blood lacks the life-giving principle. Scott's Emulsion is not a mere blood purifier. It actually increases the number of the red corpuscles in the blood and changes unhealthy action into health.

If you want to learn more of it we have a book, which tells the story in simple words.

THE DUTY IN ILLINOIS.

Secretary Nelson of the Illinois Den cratic State Central Committee has filed a formal protest against placing the so-called "National Democratio" ticket, for Presidential electors and State officers, on the official ballot of that State.

The intent of all election laws designating the form of ballot is to assist at random from the feast of good things rather than mislead the voter. The object of the law is to enable the elector to vote his preferences. It is to aid him in the work of designating the party or mention.

During the session of the Illinois Assembly in 1891, when the present election has of that State was under discussion, the necessity of limiting the number of words in the caption of any ticket to appear on the official ballot was not only on of voters by false and miseding party names was, it was agreed, he greatest danger to be guarded against the goldburg regresents Mr. Harrison telling a workingman that the merchant can take his pencil and mark up the prices of his by the coinage of the 50-cent dollar, but the the workingman cannot go to his employer and double his own wages. This is to il-lustrate how free coinage of silver will cut the workingman's wages in half by doubling the cost of his living.

The first thought that comes to one on see-ing this picture is that if the merchants can double the prices of their goods so easy, they would be foolish to wait for the passage of a free coinage bill, but they would do it right quick now. Again, there is another sought that comes to those who study this uestion of doubling prices on account of Four years ago this same Mr. Harrison and all the other Republican statesmen were telling us that the labor cost was the greatest 'tem in the cost of all articles of manufacture, and in his Chicago speech Mr. greatest 'tem in the cost of all articles of manufacture, and in his Chicago speech Mr. Ingersoll said the same thing, and filustrated it by saying the ton of steel rails selling for $25 cost $1.50 for raw material and $25.00 for wages; the $10,000 locomotive only $10 for raw material and $3990 for wages and so on. Now, if this is true, and it must be, or Mr. Bob wouldn't say it, then it is party is a pair of solid silver grape scissors. true of all other articles, and so a 5-cent foaf of bread would cost perhaps 1-3 of a cent for the wheat and 42-3 for wages; a shortening, three heaping basepoons baking 33 hat about 18 cents for raw material and powder, one teaspoon of sait and milk to $2.82 for wages, and by wages here is mean the wages of all who have anything to do with transporting the raw material, chang-ing it into its different forms, and handling the finished product until it reaches the hands of the consumer.

Now, if the selling price to the consum is to be doubled on account of the free coinage of sliver, does that not also imply a doubling in the labor wages all along the line? Or will the makers and sellers of these things charge their customers double the labor cost and by paying their workmen only the old wages so enormously to oppose free coinage if they could do this, for doubling the price of a ton of steel rails to $50 would, according to Mr. Ingersoll, mean $3 for the raw material and $47 for wages and this would mean either the whole amount to the workmen or an additional profit of $23.50 to the manufacturer. A 5-cent loaf of bread raised to 10 cents would mean 3-3 of a cent for wheat and 9 1-3 to labor or an additional profit of 4 2-3 cents to the makers, and so fight the novelist was obliged to throw his hat and pockethook into the ring, to live up to Spanish etiquette.

WOMEN OF NOTE.

The fact of the matter is, that while the free coinage of silver will undoubtedly double or nearly double the price of such staples whose price is fixed in the markets Take six slices of stale sponge cake, dip double or nearly double the price of such staples whose price is fixed in the markets of the world and measured in gold, the amount of these raw materials that enters into the cost of the necessities of life is so small that the consumer purchasing at retail would not feel the increased cost unless the labor cost or wages would also be doubled, and it is hard to see how he would be injured then at all. But it is also undoubted and true that if the producers of the prince of such as the contract of the producers of the prince of state sponge cake, dip them in sherry wine, lay them in the bottom of a dish. Put a pint of milk on the stove to scald, take two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch and a half-cup of sugar, bear the yolks of three eggs, then stir the constance and sugar into them, mixing well together. When the milk is hot stir this mixture into it, keep stirring until the custard thickens, pour over the cake while hot. When this cools, beat the whites of your eggs, adding a tablespoonful of current or plum jelly. This is for the top of custard. edly true that if the producers of the prin-cipal staples, the farmers would get double prices for their product, the consequent in-crease of their purchasing power would so stimulate production of all kinds that the problem of the unemployed would be solved and such a wave of prosperity would sweep over this country that the years of poverty over this country that the years of poverty and suffering through which we have passed would seem as a horrid nightmare.

Any one can, by reading what Mr. Ingersoll says on the subject of cost of labor and raw material, and by applying his statements to any article that enters into daily use, see for himself the utter falsity and ridiculousness of the statement that the free coinage of silver will double the cost of living without at the same time doubling the wages of labor. One can only explain the making of such statements by these people as arguments that they take the American people for unthinking fools, and there is where they make a fatal mistake.

Free Silver in Barry County. the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

The Roaring River Free Silver Cibb heartily believes the Post-Dispatch is the best free silver paper edited. I am only a private in the ranks of our club. But. I have been doing and shall continue to do my best for free silver's cause. The only remedy for suffering humanity.

We receive large amounts of campaign literature, principally goldbug, but the people here are very, very tired of the wildup perversion of facts, and after studying both sides carefully have rejected the "sound money" doctrine.

In this school district there are forty two legal voters. Thirty-six of these belong to our club, which is pledged to Bryan and silver; two more say they will vote our ticket and one is on the fence. The remaining three are hopeless "Hannacrats." I think our school district (Roaring River) deserves a place very near, if not at the top of the roll of honor. It is estimated by men of good authority that this county (Barry) will give Bryan and the entire ticket 40 majority. Formerly she has gone Republicant by about 20. But we Republicans, or rather, ex-Republicans, are of the old faith and cannot sully our manhood by departing from principles to simply support party. Our convictions are deep and will withstand all appeals to public or sectionalism.

Regarding our finances we are very poor. We cannot sid with our purses now, but with pen and tongue de ail we can. When justice is re-enthroned and prosperity running standard of Bryan and CLARENCE ARBUCKLE.

Big Celebration at Tampa in Honor of the Ten Years' Struggle for Liberty.

TAMPA, Fla., Oct. 10.—The Cubans in this city yesterday celebrated the twentythth anniversary of the outbreak of their ten years' struggle for liberty. This event is celebrated by all the Cuban colnies throughout the country.

Thousands of Cubans in this city wore flags for the occasion and after dark the verandas of their houses were hung with

If the Cubans do not win this time, he added, they will continue to harass the spanish Government until they finally throw off the yoke of oppression. The indications at present, he asserted, are more flattering to their cause and the Cuban leaders fully expect to win the struggle during the summer.

Rugby teams are getting down to business in great shape and by the end of next week the pigskin will be flying through the air.

The Association League is getting into shape, At a meeting held last night, the League was firmly established on a solid basis for the season.

The clubs represented were the Diels, St. Teresa's St. Rose's St. Louis Cycling Club, Christian Brothers' College and the Hunts.

The St. Rose's team which had been admitted to membership the last meeting sent in notice of their withdrawal. Internal dissensions among the members were responsible for this action.

The withdrawal of the St. Rose's placed the League in a rather awkward position, as it is pretty hardsto make a satisfactory schedule with five clubs.

It was resolved to postpone the schedule-making until next week. In the meanwhile the franchise given up by the St. Rose's is open to any team which desires it and which can fulfill the requirements as to proper strength and requisite financial standing and responsibility.

The five clubs now in the League will surely go through the season. They will be compelled to post a stiff forfeit to guarantee their doing so.

If a sixth club is not secured it is probable that a five club schedule will be made up.

A committee of five was appointed to draw up a constitution and by-laws. Messrs, Kinsella of the St. Teresa's, Nolan of the Diels, Forrest of the Hunts and Patrick of the St. Bridget's were appointed to act on the committee.

The feeling of the meeting seemed to be that the games should be played under the regular association rules—that is, with penalty kick and no substitutes allowed, either because of accident or any other reason.

The laws governing the contracts, registration and release of players were fully discussed. The meeting felt that a player could register or contract himself to any club only by playing one same with that club. When a player plays one championship game with any club he belongs to that team and cannot join any other team in the League will be held next Mond to prevent Brush from injuring the other clubs.

Now it is claimed by the friends of Brush that the ruling of the National Board will serve to convince the Western League Clubs, inimical to Brush, that in order to have harmony Johnson must be removed. Brush, too, it is said, will, through Goodnow and Golt, show them that he has nothing but friendly feelings for them and that Johnson has been the cause of all their trouble. It is therefore expected that Johnson will have a hard time to be re-elected at the coming meeting of the Western League although he claims to have six of the eight clubs with him. Mr. Brush said yesterday: "Only one side of this case has been read by the public. Johnson and Killilea have talked to the press and have thoroughly aired their alleged grievances. The arguments set forth by the Indianapolis and Minneapolis Clubs, however, were simply placed before the board and will not be made public until the proper time. It is always well to wait until two sides of a case have been heard before passing sentence."

Jockey Club's Action Will Not Be Sus-

as he has a prior engagement at Dalles I will not say anything about it. I do not know any mas I would rather have beat me than Willic Coburn. He is a gentleman and a St. Louisan."

Cabame and Coburn are professionals and had a fast team to pace them on a tandem, but they only equaled F. W. Buckley's competition for the third, 432-58, Mr. Buckley is the famous heavyweight winner of age limit races and record-breaker.

There has been a good deal of discussion about the mile St. Louis championship, won by Alex Laing. Many people think that the "kid" is not entitled to the race because the tandem shook the field and that it was not in accordance with the rules to put the pacemaker in. Be that as it may, the little road riding champion was not to blame for the mistakes of the officials, and as it was his luck to get the machine he was clearly entitled to the race. Of course, it was not as satisfactory a race as it would have been had the tandem not shaken the field, but Laing is entitled to the prize even if there is a cloud to the title. As for the statement that he did not have a chance had the race been properly run, that is nonsense. The boy can ride. He proved that in many a road race this year, and he held the paced competition record of the State by doing 2:15 in his novice win a year ago. He had a chance and a good one, though on their form this year. Costello, Hattersley and Dougherty ought to beat him. Laing now holds the road and track amateur championship of Missouri. Whatever may be said against his claim to the track premiership, there is no doubting his road supremacy. He won first time in every race he rode this year, save one, and he competed in six first-class events. He was robbed out of first time at Kansas City.

Considering the many attractions at the Fair Grounds at present, yesterday's crowd was the poorest of the year at the track. Not more than 1,000 persons saw the races from the stand.

Squire G. was the only favorite to win at the Fair Grounds yesterday.

That decision of the Turf Congress allowing Willie Martin to ride on their tracks after he had been ruled off by the Jockey Club will not tend to increase confidence in the Western turf. What is not good enough for the East should not be good enough for the East should not be good enough for the West, particularly when that something has not the sever of honesty about it.

Mouth at a Trial.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Rose Coghlan, the actress, when examined in supplementary proceedings to determine her income, pleaded poverty. The hearing was due to her refusal to pay $400, the balance due to F. G. Smith, Sons & Co., jewelers of Detroit, for a diamond ring. The firm got judgment.

She said her husband, John T. Sullivan, bought the ring before their marriage, Although she was well dressed at the supplementary hearing she said she had to sell all her jewelry.

The defendant testified that her last engagement was with the Stockwell company in San Francisco last July. She realized from that engagement only $300.

SMITH AND SHIRAS GEORGIA PFEFFER HAVE THEIR SAY.

STEALING FAIR TICKETS.

PRIEST HAS BEEN RELEASED. SHE BREATHED INFREQUENTLY

It Is Said That to Get His Freedom He Turned State's Evidence Be. fore the Grand-Jury.

Albert G. Smith and Frank Shiras say that they have been grossly wronged by Mark Priest, who, it is said, has turned State's evidence and was released from cus-

The three men were arrested Thursday afternoon charged with conspiracy to de-fraud the Fair Grounds Association by means of secreting and reselling tickets at the Grand avenue entrance.

Shiras and Smith are still locked up. It is understood that Priest appeared before the Grand Jury Friday afternoon and gave the Grand Jury Friday afternoon and gave evidence against them.

Chief Desmond stated positively Saturday morning that he did not know Priest had been released.

Chief Harrigan said, "See Desmond."

Strong influence was brought to bear on the Police Department to secure Priest's release. His father, ex-Police Commissioner John G. Priest, and the prisoner's brother, Dr. Warren G. Priest, called at the Four Courts and had a long conference with Chief Desmond. Secretary, Auli of the Fair Grounds Association was there, and between the prosecuting and pleading parties it was agreed that if Mark Priest would testify before the Grand-jury he might go free.

Great secrecy is maintained as to what took place after this agreement was reached, but it is said that Priest was taken directly before the Grand-Jury and was then given his freedom. None of the officials who handled the case will discuss the matter, and Detectives Allender and Smith are dumb.

matter, and Detectives Allender and Smith are dumb.
Albert G. Smith was seen by a Post-Dispatch reporter Saturday morning.
"If Mark Priest says that I stole tickets or entered into any conspiracy to defraud the Fair Association," he said, "he lies. If he implicated me in any such scheme in his testimony before the Grand-Jury he swore to a faisehood.
"There is only one thing that can be used against me.

"I showed up at Treasurer Lockwood's office last Sunday morning, according to instructions, as I had made application for a place as ticket seller, but did not 'get on.' I was told to call again Monday morning, and did so. I did not get a place, but went out again Thursday, as it was the big day, but could get nothing to do. Finally a man named Robert, or Roberts, spoke to me and suggested that I might get a place with a man named R. D. or R. G. Allen, who had the privilege of selling tickets outside, and Roberts offered to get me the tickets. He handed them to me in a sealed envelope. That was about 4 o'clock.

"The crowd outside was small, and as the commission was only 'a cent on each ticket, I saw no chance to make anything, and did not open the package. I sat down outside, and before long Detective Allender came along and arrested me.

"I have worked at the Fair Grounds five years, and have never been accused of any wrong doing."

Shiras denies the accusation against him. He says that he was not employed during the present fair year, and does not even know the color of the tickets.

Warrants charging them with grand larceny have been issued against both Smith and Shiras.

SOME ROMANCE IN THIS.

Miss Cora V. Gray and George H. Da vis Secretly Wedded.

Miss Cora V. Gray of 3216 St. Vincent av enue and George H. Davis of 5913 Minneenue and George H. Davis of 5313 Minne-sota avenue, stole a march on their friends and their fellow-employes at the Wilcox-Gibbs sewing machine establishment Thurs-day by going to Clayton and getting married. None of their acquaintances had learned of the circumstance Saturday morning and the young couple were still busily ing and the young couple were still busily engaged keeping it secret.

Miss Gray has been book-keeper at the sewing machine store a year and formed Davis' acquaintance there. Davis was very attentive to the young lady, but no one suspected that a wedding was in prospect. Several weeks ago Miss Gray told her mother she intended to marry Davis, but wanted it kept secret and Mrs. Gray consented. Arrangements were made to have the wedding occur Thursday and the trip to Clayton was planned to avoid publicity. Justice We sgier performed the ceremony. Returning the couple went to their respective homes and have been working side by side ever since without the slightest suspicion being aroused. The young lady is still known to her employer as Miss Gray. She said to a Post-Dispatch reporter Saturday that there was no particular reason for keeping the fact of the marriage a secret, and that the ceremony was performed at Clayton merely to avoid a public weedding.

HAD A THRILL

OF HIS LONG, USEFUL AND DENY THAT THEY ARE GUILTY OF SAW A FEMALE BURGLAR CLIME THROUGH HER TRANSOM.

Lost Some Jewelry and a Gown, but Got Them Back Next Day, and the Intruder Is in Jail.

Miss Georgia Pfeffer, a pretty young woman of 20 years, awoke from her slum bers at 3 a. m. Saturday to see the form of a woman crawling in through the transom. Her room is on the second floor of the house, 904 South Broadway.

She is a dainty little woman who is ap to become startled at almost anything. So, when she saw the female burglar she lay still as death and breathed only when she could not get out of it.

Finally the woman got her whole body it through the transom and then lowered her-self to the knob and dropped to the floor. The covers were pulled up close to the neck of Miss Pfeffer and as she folded her arms tightly across her breast and opened her eyes the least bit she recognized the intruder as Louisa Stahl, the servant of the her eyes the least bit she recognized the intruder as Louisa Stahl, the servant of the house.

Miss Pfeffer had had a quarrel with Louisa two days before and she thought that the object of the visit was not to steal, but to wreak vengeance.

Miss Pfeffer feared each moment that the woman would tiptoe her way to the bed and either assault her or attempt to administer a drug that would send her off in a sleep from which she would never wake. But instead, Louisa, the kitchen mechanic of the household, found her way to the dresser and from a little box she took a pair of gold bracelets and a plain gold ring.

Then she went to the closet and took a dress. Folding the dress on her arm she went to the door, unlocked it, the key being on the inside, and left, closing the door behind her.

After all was still Miss Pfeffer arose and in her robe de nuit explored and learned what she had lost.

Then she secured the door, the transom and the windows and retired again, but she did not sleep soundly.

At 7 a. m. Saturday Miss Pfeffer was at police headquarters and an hour later Louisa Stahl was under arrest.

The stolen property was found in her room and a warrant was issued. Louisa says that it is the only theft she ever committed.

WITTY AND FORCIBLE ADDRESS ON POLITICAL ISSUES.

BRYAN'S NAME WAS CHEERED.

An Audience That Packed the Oriental Heard a Masterly Plea for Free Coinage.

Senator George G. Vest is still "The Little Giant" of Missouri. And the orator who would wrest that title from him would do well to wait another score of years. In this campaign he has been just as eloquent, just as forcible, just as tireless, rently, as when in the seventies he to arouse the Democratic hosts to white heat enthusiasm.

For the first time in this campaign he pocke in St. Louis Friday night. It was the first political speech he has made in the within two years. The unanimo Het of the splendid audience which d him was that it ranked with the verdict of the spiendid audience which heard him was that it ranked with the best.

The Oriental Theater is the home of the St. Louis Democracy. Therein the Democrats gathered Friday night and gave the Senator from Missouri an ovation which warmed the cockles of his heart.

The theater will hold a good many people when it is densely packed from top to bottom, the boxes filled, the stage crowded and voters literally hanging by their eyebrows to the outer skirts of the crowd.

That was the kind of an audience which greeted Senator Vest.

It seemed impossible to get another man in the building after 7:30 o'clock, and then the Senator had not arrived. Hundreds were trying to get in, but many were compelled to go away without being able to get nearer to the stage than the main entrance. Many ladies were present and the rows of boxes on each side in the balcony were filled.

Promptly at 8 o'clock, Chairman Sam B. Cook of the Democratic State Committee and Senator Vest appeared on the platform. As soon as the pudgy form of the junior Senator was seen the audience gave him a cheering welcome. They were so eager for the speechmaking to begin that no lengthy preliminaries were allowed.

In a dozen sentences Chairman Cook presented Judge Given Campbell, who had been selected to preside, and in an equally brief fashion Judge Campbell introduced Senator Vest as "the man who never failed a friend nor feared a foe—the sturdy champion of the people's rights."

people's rights."
While the big audience was warmly greeting him Senator Vest was getting out of his overcoat and, metaphorically rolling up his overcoat and, metaphorically rolling up his gleeves.

Then for two hours he talked Democracy to a Democratic audience and garnished his belt with the scalps of a few political warriors who have been war-whooping in the present campaign.

In caustic style Senator Vest told of the visits to Missouri of "Callco Charley" Foster of Ohio and Bourke Cockran, the hired hand of the plutocrats. Then he told at length of the doings of the peripatetic financier, as he termed "Calico Charley," while he was Secretary of the Treasury under Benjamin Harrison, and clinched his statement that Foster, while Secretary of the Treasury, had actually prepared the plates for an issue of bonds to meet the current expenses of the government.

Senator Vest was especially witty and sarcastic in his references to Carlisle, Henry Watterson, McKinley and Bourke Cockran, but the effective portion of his speech was his forcible presentation

"If coined before the mints were opened to free coinage the parity declaration would apply, but if afterwards it would not. The statement of the proposition shows its absurdity. All silver follars coined at the mints are dollars of the United States, and the legal tender quality, as well as the decmints are dollars of the United States, and the legal tender quality, as well as the declaration of parity, applies to all such coins. "The fall in the commercial value of silver was not caused by overproduction of the white metal, it came from adverse legislation. In 1871 and 1872 the commercial value of silver was $1.32 an ounce, but in 1874, the year after our mints were closed to silver coinage, it fell to $1.29, and continued to fall until it reached $6 cents an ounce. When the mints of India were closed to the individual coinage of silver it fell 25 cents an ounce in twenty-four hours, and in 1890, when the United States Senate passed a bill for the free coinage of silver, it rose in commercial value from $1% cents to $1.12 an ounce. Would not the passage of such a bill by both houses of Congress and its approval by President Bryan raise the commercial value of silver to $1.22 an ounce, and restore it to a parity with gold."

"A streat deal is being said about the 50.

a great deal is being said about the 50-cent Mexican dollar, but a little reflection will show why the Mexican dollar, after it leaves Mexico, is worth only the value of silver bullion, while the United States dol-lar is everywhere worth 100 cents. It comes from the fact that Mexico exports only silver, and a small quantity of coffee and hides, while this country exports annually $500,000,000 of agricultural products and man-ufactured goods, after feeding and clothing her own people. is worth over the whole worth that the exports of that country are worth. If the European can buy our cotton, wheat, corn, meat and oils with our legal tender silver, why should it not be worth as much abroad as gold? What more of our products could he buy with gold? And if our people want gold they can demand it with the certainty of its being paid, for the necessity which compels the purchase would compel the payment of the sort of money demanded. The laborers and workmen of the United States are told that they will be paid is cents a day, as in Mexico, if firee coinage of silver is re-established, but we hear nothing of the wages in gold standard countries. Why is nothing said of Austria-Hungary, where women are paid 80 cents a week for manual labor and must board themselves? Why do we hear nothing of the spectacle seen every day in Austria of women yoked to heavily loaded carts with dogs?

"This in a gold standard downtry, but 'This in a gold standard country, but nothing is said of it by the gold worshipers. The wages of Mexico will never be paid here any more than the American workman will become the peon, nor will any dollar stamped as legal tender by the United States be worth less than its face value."

When Senator Vest concluded it was several minuses before the enthusiastic Democrats would let him leave the hall. They insisted on shaking hands with him and congratulating him on his great effort.

BOLER WAS A GAY DECEIVER. He Loved Many Maidens, but He Married None.

ething seems to be wrong in the ho hold of Tony Capestra. He has a black-eyed daughter, named Rosa, who is in Cincinnati, all by herself, instead of being on a bridal tour with a devoted and newly ac-cinnati, all by herself, instead of being on a bridal tour with a devoted and newly acquired husband.

Tony runs what he calls Tony's place at 708 North Taylor avenue, and as might be expected dispenses liquid refreshments. Mrs. Tony helps him.

There was to have been a wedding in the Capestra family Wednesday night, but it never happened. Even the trousseau had been prepared, but the bridegroom proved to be a gay deceiver. No one even knows where he is now, and he is presumed to have left the city.

The name of the recreant lover is Charles Boler, and from all accounts must have been a terror among the fair sex. Miss Capestra was not the first young maiden whose heart he won, and that is where the trouble came from.

Boler once plighted his troth to Miss Minnie Slick, but he merely toyed with her affections, and she found it out. She gave proof that she was well named by following him one day to the house of a girl on Cook avenue, to whom she learned he had also engaged himself.

Miss Slick apolled this little dicker in less time than it takes to tell it, but she did not stop here. Although she and her former lover were estranged, she could not forget his perfidy and kept "cases" on him still to see that he deceived no one else.

She folied him with a girl on Henrietts street, and when she discovered that he was going to marry Rose Capestra, she made it her particular business to go out to "Tony Place" and drop a word to the wise.

This is why there was no wedding in the Capestra household Wednesday night.

The Capestras refuse to discuss their daughter's matrimonial flasco.

OF THE BIG FAIR.

THREE EVENTS HAVE BEEN PROMISED THE SIGHTSEERS.

WHEEL AND HORSE CONTESTS.

Closing Hours of the Great Show of of the Week.

The last day of the big Fair promises be a banner day in point of attendance. A great many people have a habit of put-ting off their visit to the Fair until the last noment. Besides it is a school holiday and a great many downtown offices close early. The crowd can afford to tire itself on Saturday because there will be a day of res to follow.

These reasons would in themselves serv to swell the Saturday crowd, even if there were no special attraction to make the big show unusually interesting. There are three special features on the card to-day, which should pack the amphitheater.

The principal of these is the bicycle meet, to be held under L. A. W. rules and L. A. W. sanction. Elaborate preparations have

W. sanction. Elaborate preparations have been made to make the races fast and exciting. The track has been put in superb condition for the day. Most of the crack riders have been entered and the contests should be worth going miles to see.

The programme will be as follows:
First race, one mile, novice—First prize, gold medal.

Second race, half mile open amateur—First prize, diamond ring; second prize, gold cuff buttons; third prize, silver medal.
Third race, one mile, handicap—First prize, diamond medal; second prize, diamond stud; third prize, silver medal.

Fourth race, two miles, tandem—First prize, diamond stud; second prize, diamond stud.

Fourth race, two miles, tandem—First prize, diamond stud; second prize, diamond stud; Fifth race, two miles, handicap—First prize, gold watch; second prize, gold medal; third prize, sliver medal; fourth prize, bronze medal.

Sixth race, one mile open—First prize, diamond ring; second prize, gold medal; third prize, sliver medal.

Seventh race, one mile, 2:20 class—First prize, diamond stud; second prize, diamond cuff buttons; third prize, sliver tea service.

The prizes are well worth competing for, and will no doubt prove a sufficient incentive to bring out all that there is in the riders. Every one who cares to see good racing on a fine track will get out to the Fair Grounds this afternoon.

Besides the cycle meet there will be two other features, either of which would serve to draw a crowd.

The most important of these is the saddle horse contest for a stake and the championship of America. The management has not over shot the mark in presuming to confer the championship title. Every horse entered is in the championship class, every one has gone through a long campaign of prize winning and altogether the group comprises the best saddle horses in the country. It was stipulated that there must be ten entries. Only eight horses qualified and the management cut the stake down somewhat. This will not interfere with the sport, however, or diminish the sport, however, or diminish the sport however.

come back to St. Louis and face the world in an effort to efface the stain on her life.

Miss Hamilton's case attracted a great deal of attention. She had stolen thousands of dollars' worth of property and concealed it, without having any apparent use for it. She was well educated, exceptions ally intelligent and of good family.

Through the importunities of her friends and the representations of the physicians who examined her, that she was a victim of kleptomania, the case against her was nolle prossed on the condition that she leave the city. She went West, and since them has been living with friends in Colorado.

She had worked as a stenographer for E. M. Ward, agent for the Coal Traffic Association at 108 North Fourth street. During her trouble he had been unusually kind to her. It was principally through his efforts that she was not prosecuted.

The girl's letters to Mr. Ward are yery pathetic. He wrote her that if she would promise never to enter a store without some one accompanying her, he would be willing to take her back. She readily made the promise never to enter a store without some one accompanying her, he would be willing to take her back. She readily made the promise. As, however, her lungs are affected, Mr. Ward has advised her to remain in Colorado.

The Seventh Ward branch will be organized to-night at the Bohemian Hall, Ninth street and Allen avenue, and an open air meeting will also be held to-night at Fourth and Chouteau avenue. The Naturalization Committee of the Workingmen's Bryan Club will continue work at the club's headquarters, 604 Market street, until 9 o'clock to-night, assisting members and other workingmen favorable to Bryan and free silver to secure papers. Another important feature of the Workingmen's Bryan Club is that they propose to issue mock ballots and open schools of instruction and instruct the workingmen how to make out their ballots. This is done to insure the counting of all votes cast by the workingmen, as many votes under the Australian system have heretofore been thrown out on account of being scratched or made out wrong.
